State man on FBI wanted list

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Benjamin Hoskins Paddock, a native of Sheboygan, Wis., and an escaped bank robber, was put on the FBI's list of 10-most wanted fugitives Tuesday.

Paddock, 42, has been sought since Dec. 31 when he escaped from a federal prison facility at La Tuna, Tex., where he was serving a 20-year term.

He has been diagnosed as a psychopath, the FBI said, and must be considered "extremely dangerous."

Known to the underworld as "Chrome Dome" because he shaves his head, Paddock's criminal record began in 1946 when he was convicted in Illinois on 10 auto theft charges and five counts of "confidence game" operations.

Paddock is 6-foot-4 and 245 pounds, and is known as an avid bridge player. He smokes both cigars and cigarettes and enjoys expensive steak dinners. He is known as a frequent gambler and as an enthusiastic viewer of sports events on television. While in prison, he served as an umpire for softball and baseball games.

The fugitive is described as being egotistical and arrogant but also subject to suicidal tendencies. Paddock has a scar over his right eyebrow, another on his right knee and a birthmark on his left ankle. His eyes are gray or green and he may be wearing glasses or contact lenses.

In the past, Paddock has worked as a salesman, service station operator, promoter, electrician and automobile mechanic and has pursued such hobbies as ham radio and stock car racing.

Actor Rod Steiger's wife seeks divorce

JAUREZ, Mexico — Actress Claire Bloom has filed suit for a divorce from actor Rod Steiger, it was reported.

Miss Bloom and a companion registered as H. Elkins checked out of Juarez hotel after the filing Monday. There has been published gossip that she plans to marry Hillard Elkins, producer of the new off-Broadway play "Oh, Calcutta."

Steiger and Miss Bloom were married in 1959 and are the parents of a 9 year old daughter.

Pompidou gets Pinay's backing

PARIS (UPI) — Former Premier Antoine Pinay, one of France's most respected elder statesmen, Wednesday publicly endorsed Georges Pompidou in the presidential race.

Pompidou, 77, a conservative, was prime minister in 1952 during the Fourth Republic.

As Charles de Gaulle's finance minister in 1958-59, he was largely responsible for halting runaway monetary inflation and launching the Gaullist new franc.

"I think Pompidou is the candidate offering the best guarantees because he will be elected by a more homogenous majority," Pinay told newsmen. "His experience in public life will meet most effectively the needs of the situation."

With three campaigning days left before Sunday's runoff election, the Pinay endorsement was expected to give an added boost to Gaullist Pompidou, already generally favored to win.

Radio pioneer Pat Barnes dies

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Patrick H. Barnes, 70, public affairs director for television station WISN-TV here and a pioneer in radio, died of an apparent heart attack at his home Monday night.

Barnes, who was known for a time as the "man of many voices" for playing as many as 20 different roles on a single radio show, began his broadcasting career in 1924 at Pittsburgh and New York before coming here in 1955 to join WISN radio.

His firsts in radio included the first daytime serial, "Henry Adams," and the first electricaly transcribed show. In 1927, he was picked in a magazine poll as the nation's top broadcaster.

U.S. judge dismisses federal counts against 10 protesters

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Federal Judge Myron Gordon in a surprise move Wednesday dismissed federal charges against 10 war protesters on grounds it would be impossible to seat an impartial jury because of adverse publicity.

The 10 were among 15 accused in connection with the looting and burning of draft records from the state selective service office here last September. Two of the protesters Tuesday pleaded guilty to charges of interfering with the Selective Service system, and Gordon dismissed two other charges.

Lerner said he felt the trial could have been recessed to a later date "when the atmosphere would have cooled down." Or the judge could have brought in more jurors, Lerner said.

"The judge acted on his own motion," Lerner said.

"These men will probably be taken to Waupun today or tomorrow" to begin their state sentences, Lerner said. Separate trials were to be held for the remaining two defendants.

The guilty plea Tuesday were made by Rev. Robert F. Cunnane, 36, Stoughton, Mass., a Catholic priest, and the Rev. John H. Higginbotham Jr., 28, Washington D.C., a minister of the Church of Scientology.

Man raises flag for loving wife

BARROW-IN-FURNES, England (UPI) — There's no doubt about it. Sam Hartlebury is a happily-married man.

He celebrated 25 years of wedded life Tuesday, not by giving his wife a mere present or a bunch of flowers, but by hauling up a huge British flag atop a 25 foot pole in his front yard.

Filling his garden with 5,000 seashells, spelling out "Pat and Sam, silver wedding June 10."

Said Pat: "I'm simply delighted."

Said Sam: "A good wife deserves something special after 25 years."

Inflation curb

CAPE TOWN — S.A. makes money scarce to fight inflation.

836th Tactical Hospital at MacDill AFB, Fla. Ortiz was selected by a board of senior non-commissioned officers and was to compete in the Base Airman of the Month competition.

Mechanic

Airman Kenneth W. Miracle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Miracle, 1214 60th St., has graduated from a U.S. Air Force technical school at Chanute AFB, Ill. He was trained as a jet engine mechanic and assigned to a unit of the Strategic Air Command at Fairchild AFB, Wash.
